Alicia,

I started using the services of Ask4 Premier Credit Repair almost a year ago to help repair my credit. They are a firm that works very hard to improve a credit report and thus the resulting score. They are very knowledgeable in the various laws that the credit bureaus don't always follow to the tee and they diligently point that out to the credit bureaus. I know that over time my credit score will improve with the assistance of Ask4 Premier Credit Repair to the point that I will be able to navigate through the various entities that require a good credit score. The principal of the firm Alicia Khan is very easy to work with and I find her to be personally knowledgeable in not only the various credit laws, but in how to deal with the credit bureaus. I would recommend her firm to anyone that is in need of help.
